

Dr. Diana Rucker completed her medical degree at the University of Calgary, followed by residency in Internal Medicine at the University of Alberta. She subsequently completed a GIM fellowship at the University of Alberta as well a Geriatric fellowship at Harvard University.

Dr. Rucker is an associate clinical professor in Division of Geriatrics at the University of Alberta and has a special interest in capacity, caregiver burden and dementia in HIV and Down Syndrome.